Soap bunk-ups are funny things, aren't they? Some of them you can see coming a mile off – or in the case of one this week, 20 or so years off! Meanwhile, others arrive out of nowhere and take you completely by surprise. One thing's for sure, though: whether they've been hotly anticipated or show up out of the blue, a fling will always have big consequences – that's how soaps work their magic!

Take this week's Emmerdale. First up, we've got the long-awaited giving-in-to-passion of former lovers Moira and James, who last locked lips the night their son Adam was conceived. Now we're just waiting for bonkers Emma to find out – Moira should be very scared! Meanwhile, our out-of-nowhere bonk comes when Ross takes scorned Kerry for a ride... in more ways than one! While Dan certainly wouldn't be likely to take on bad lad Ross, we do wonder where this fling is leading – and I can't wait to find out... Enjoy!

FIRST WITH THE WEEK'S HOTTEST HEADLINES!

EASTENDERS | BBC1 Monday

The Mitchell boys are back in action this week – but it's Grant and his secret son, Mark Fowler Jnr, who emerge as the new double act when they team up and embark upon a dangerous rescue mission!

It all kicks off in Albert Square after Ben and Jay are abducted by the gang responsible for Paul Coker's brutal murder. As the boys are bundled into a van, it's a race against time to bring them home alive. But is this one war that the Mitchell family have no hope of winning?

"Paul's killers are clearly very dangerous people," warns our EastEnders insider. "They already have blood on their hands, so there isn't anything to stop them from doing away with Ben and Jay, too."

Phil and Grant are no strangers to perilous situations, but the stakes are always higher when it's their own loved ones on the line.

GRANT THE CUE!

Mark after Phil
s kidnapped...

Ronnie's beau Jack agrees to help her cousins with an address for Paul's killers

“GRANT AND MARK'S BIG SECRET IS JUST WAITING TO EXPLODE!”

With that, protective dad Phil doesn't think twice about setting off in pursuit of Ben, and tools himself up with a baseball bat. But given that Phil is currently on the waiting list for a liver transplant, his wise niece Courtney figures that he'll need some backup – and makes a desperate phone call to her dad Grant.

“It's the moment EastEnders fans have been waiting for, as Grant joins Phil to kick some butt,” enthuses our snoop. “They're not the spring chickens they used to be, though, so we can certainly forgive them both for being a bit on the rusty side!”

Unfortunately, that's the understatement of the year where poorly Phil is concerned. Just as the brothers have persuaded ex-copper Jack to source an address for Paul's killers, Grant's older sibling doubles over in pain and collapses in the backyard!

He is clearly in no fit state to go chasing after the bad guys, leaving Grant as Ben and Jay's only hope of survival. But given the terrible animosity between Grant and Phil at present, what's to stop the bitter brute from turning his back on his brother?

“Grant has never walked away from a fight in his life!” our snitch reminds us. “And ultimately, the Mitchells are still all about ‘faaammmy’”. The boys will always have each other's backs, no matter what has gone on between them in the past.”

While hulking Grant is more than capable of looking after himself, he could still do with a capable wingman. But in a shock twist, it's Mark Jnr who jumps in the car beside him – ready for a rumble! Will this be the hotly anticipated moment where the two men finally realise that they are father and son?

» FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

"Grant has no reason to suspect a thing, as he doesn't know this child of his even exists," says our snoop. "But with the pair in such close proximity, it's a big secret that's just waiting to explode!"

As the pair head off together, Ian and Sharon – who do know the truth about Mark's paternity – desperately try to keep the information under wraps.

But with a potentially deadly situation awaiting them, will Grant and Mark live to find out? And what does fate have in store for Phil, Ben and Jay?

One thing is for certain – this is one action-packed week for the Mitchells that you're not going to want to miss...

GRANT: THE NEXT CHAPTER!

Could he be persuaded to stick around in Walford?

We know that actor Ross Kemp, who plays Grant, isn't returning to EastEnders full time, having only agreed to do a short stint. Boo! But if the star ever decides to quit racing off around the world to hunt down the globe's most notorious gangs, here are just a few reasons why Grant might want to remain in the Square...

FAMILY!

Having reconnected with daughter Courtney, and now within sniffing distance of his secret son Mark, Grant has a great excuse to set up home in Walford. Ronnie's pad at No 27 will likely be vacant after she and Roxy leave, so Grant and his kids seem like the perfect candidates to take over the lease.

BELINDA!

The sizzling passion between Grant and Belinda was so hot that you could have fried an egg on them! Their fling was over before it had even begun, but we don't think that they'd have any trouble whatsoever picking up where they left off!

THE MITCHELL EMPIRE!

With Phil in no fit state to run a tap, let alone his businesses, the family empire is in desperate need of a strong captain to steady the ship. Perhaps Grant can be persuaded to dig out his old overalls and knuckle down at the Arches? That's assuming he isn't compelled to throw anyone down that pit again...

THE QUEEN VIC!

The Carters have earned their place at the helm of Walford's famous boozer, no question. But for old times' sake, wouldn't it be a treat to see Grant and Sharon back behind the bar together for one last shift? "Bet you never thought you'd see us again," they'd say. Shame Peggy isn't with us to react accordingly!

GET OUT OF WEATHERFIELD!

Nick orders Steve to leave – or he'll tell Michelle everything...

There's a showdown between Steve and Nick this week, in the wake of Leanne confessing to Nick that Steve is the father of her unborn baby.

When Nick goes AWOL after Leanne's emotional admission, she's terrified about what he'll do next. And her fears seem well-founded, as Nick drags Steve out of the Rovers and lays down the law: either Steve leaves the Street for good, or Michelle finds out that Leanne is expecting his child!

"This is not an empty threat," insists Ben Price, who plays Nick. "He wants to find out what Steve's intentions are, and when Nick discovers that Steve has no interest in Leanne or the baby, he has to make sure that Steve will have no interest in them for the rest of his life. He wants Steve to go away and be scared about ever bringing up the child. Nick thinks that's the solution to the problem."

Steve is understandably horrified when Nick drives him to a random area of wasteland to demand some answers – and Leanne is equally concerned when she arrives at the pub and is told by oblivious Michelle that the two blokes have gone off together. But as Nick stands over Steve to type out a text to Michelle telling her everything, and threatens to press 'send' unless Steve agrees to go, the pressure is on for the landlord.

"Nick's plan is to scare Steve, and he's quite happy to tell Michelle the truth!" claims Ben. "This is the difference in Nick now – he's gone through a lot with his brain injury and all the trouble with his brother, David. He's changed so much that he hasn't got much to lose.

Steve and Nick – adversaries after so long on the cobbles

"Robert has part of Nick's business, and Carla has wrecked his life – so Nick is thinking, 'Well Steve, if you push me to the edge, then you'll get it!'"

Seemingly not convinced that Nick will do as he says, Steve refuses to do as he is ordered, pointing out that his whole life is in Weatherfield, and he can't possibly leave it behind. So when Nick proceeds to send his truth-telling text to Michelle, Steve is stunned.

“NICK WANTS TO SCARE STEVE – HE'S HAPPY TO TELL MICHELLE THE TRUTH...”

“Nick is going to struggle!”

Nick told Leanne he'll take care of her baby as if it's his own. However, even if the news is out about Steve, can Nick really raise a child who isn't his?

“Nick loves Leanne and he will love the child, but whether he can cope with bringing it up is a big question that he's going to struggle with,” admits Ben. “He knows he wants to be with Leanne and wants to look after her, but I don't think he has the whole situation sorted in his mind. That said, Nick does have a relationship with Simon, who is Peter Barlow's son – and Nick hates Peter! So he has it in him, but it may be a sticking point...”

“Nick was fine when he thought Leanne's babydaddy was just some random person whom he'll never know,” sighs Ben. “He just can't believe that it's Steve, because it makes the whole situation so complicated. Nick has known Steve for most of his life, and he lives across the road – so this revelation really has changed everything.

“Steve keeps insisting he doesn't want to be involved with the baby – but who knows where they'll be in a few years? Nick has to make sure Steve won't change his mind!”

Back in the Rovers, it's Leanne who first notices that Michelle has received a text from Nick, after Steve's missus leaves her phone unattended. Leanne quickly shoves the phone into her pocket – although she's forced to hand it back to Michelle when it starts ringing. Helpless Leanne can do nothing but stand there as Michelle begins to read the incriminating message – so is all hell about to break loose?

KERRY SLEEPS WITH ROSS!

After Dan and Nicola's secret snog is exposed, she has her revenge...

Kerry gets her own back on cheating partner Dan this week – by bedding village bad boy Ross!

After Dan and Nicola's snog is revealed by Jimmy's son Elliot, they're soon facing the fury of their respective other halves. But when Kerry goes on to fall into Ross' questionable clutches, has Dan paid a terrible price for his indiscretion?

"All Dan wants is Kerry – so if he found out she'd been with Ross, he'd be mortified," admits Liam Fox, who plays Dan. "He's gutted that she knows about Nicola, and he feels so stupid. He was hoping against hope that it'd all blow over, but instead it turns into a big problem for all of them."

After Elliot spots Dan and Nicola together, the pair try to throw him off the scent, with Nicola lying that she and Dan were practising mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for his paramedic course! Sadly for the love-cheats, there are no flies on this young lad – and when he goes on to blow their saucy secret in the café, it's not pretty...

"Dan is a desperate man at this point – he even tells Kerry that Nicola made a pass at him!" shares Liam. "He's trying to take the pressure off, so then he starts blaming Kerry by insisting she's not shown much interest in him lately. But deep down, he blames himself more than anything, and knows there's no excuse for what he's done."

On hearing her man's lame justifications, Kerry is straight round to Nicola's to slap her! However, even fuming Kerry realises that Nicola's disability doesn't make it a fair fight, so she stops short of following the slap with a punch. Instead, she turns her attention to Jimmy – planting a kiss on him!

"Kerry is Kerry, so you'd expect nothing less," sighs Liam. "Dan's already embarrassed, so when Kerry tries kissing Jimmy, he sees it as a wind-up rather than revenge. To a certain extent he's like, 'For God's sake, just get it out of your system!'"

Unfortunately, Kerry doesn't stop with Jimmy. After he deftly dodges her advances, she storms off and demands that taxi driver Ross take her into town – and ends up kissing him, too! This time, though – thanks to Ross' bet with Pete over which Barton will cop off with a cab customer first – one thing leads to another...

The morning after, Kerry is so mortified by what she's done that she asks Dan for another chance. But surely it won't be long before her sordid secret slips out?

"Dan is really pleased when Kerry says she wants to make another go of things," insists Liam. "But knowing she's been with Ross would be the ultimate betrayal. What Kerry's done is altogether different from Dan's little snog with Nicola – she's slept with Ross. Which means there'll be a rocky road ahead!"

ALLISON JONES

Two sneaky snoggers and two very angry partners make for café conflict

Back to bad?

WITHOUT DAN, WOULD KERRY RETURN TO HER WICKED WAYS?

Now Kerry has become a Dales favourite, it's easy to forget that she was once a distinctly bad girl. So if her and Dan are over, will she go off the rails again?

A terrible mum to daughter Amy, Kerry had a disastrous fling with Andy which came to an end after she accidentally set fire to his house while babysitting his kids! Upon discovering Amy and Andy had got together, she faked a pregnancy – and later joined Brenda on a shoplifting spree. Even after she fell for Dan, Kerry couldn't help pretending she was dying to secure a free wedding, and was revealed as a bigamist on the big day!

While Kerry is still fond of a drink, being with Dan seems to have tamed her. But is she now set to revisit the bad old days?

Kerry thinks Nicola is a right old slapper

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 Monday

Who will go down for Patrick's murder?

HOLLYOAKS' WE

The stunning truth about Patrick's murder looks set to be revealed this week, as the police close in on his killer!

Having finally discovered Patrick's rotting corpse in the middle of the woods, the team at Dee Valley police station – headed up by DS Armstrong – are determined to nail the person or persons who murdered him. Each Hollyoaks episode this week focuses on a different suspect in the case, as the cops interrogate Patrick's nearest and dearest – but will the right person be in the frame as the investigation draws to a dramatic close?

Maxine doesn't react well to Armstrong's strong-arm questioning

MAXINE

Patrick's long-suffering wife has been wracked with guilt since the night of his murder, when she returned home to find him dead. She's terrified that she'll be locked up for disposing of his body – but she soon has something else to worry about as well...

"Maxine faints during police questioning, leading Tegan to wonder whether she could be pregnant!" gasps our Chester insider. "That's the last thing she needs when she's facing a possible jail sentence – not to mention the fact that she has two potential daddies! Having a baby with dependable Adam wouldn't be too bad – but finding out that she's preggers by wicked Warren Fox would be Maxine's worst nightmare!"

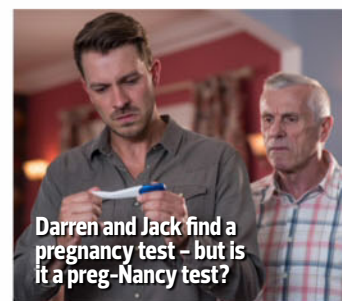

Could Maxine find herself both banged up and knocked up before the week is out?

DARREN & NANCY

The Osbornes may not have killed Patrick, but they're guilty as sin after moving his body from the city wall to his final resting place in the woods. With two kids to think about, Darren and Nancy are prepared to do whatever it takes to keep themselves out of prison – even if it means sending an innocent party to jail instead.

"Let's not forget that the devious pair planted a hair on Patrick's body before they Darren and Jack find a pregnancy test – but is it a preg-Nancy test?

WEEK OF SHOCKS!

buried it for the second time,” our sneak reminds us. “It was a hair obtained from a brush in Patrick’s flat – so the big question is, does it belong to Nico, Sienna or Maxine?”

Nancy also has health issues playing on her mind following her recent car accident, and takes herself to hospital to get checked out. Might she receive a shock diagnosis, forcing Darren to take the fall for their actions with Patrick’s corpse?

NICO

Viewers know twisted teen Nico was the one who really did in Patrick! But nobody else does – so can she convince the police of her innocence? Or might she confess to someone she trusts?

Will the terrible teen flee the village in the Nico of time?

“Nico should be used to getting away with murder now – she’s done it enough times,” chuckles our mole. “It’d be nice to think that she at least feels a little bit of remorse for bumping off her dear old grandad, but no – she’s a cold-blooded killer through and through!”

What Nico is panicked about, however, is the prospect of her crimes catching up with her. So as the questioning intensifies, Nico begs her pal Peri to run away with her. Will Peri agree?

SIENNA

For once Sienna is an innocent party, but there’s every chance she could end up in the frame if the hair planted on her dad’s body turns out to be hers! Then there’s the matter of daughter Nico being the killer – how will Sienna react if it comes out?

“Sienna’s been through some truly awful things in her life, but her little girl killing her dad would be the worst,” sighs our spy. “She’s already furious with Nico for killing Trevor, so if the truth about Patrick did come out, it could tip Sienna over the edge...”

LIFE SENTENCE?

As the police round up the evidence, they’re only a step away from arresting Patrick’s killer. So, could someone find themselves done for murder by the end of the week? And if so, who will it be?

SARAH ELLIS

Will Sienna be seein’ a jail cell before the week is out?

DAVID IN DANGER!

He's the victim of a vicious beating – but why?

SNEAK PREVIEW!

Here is your first look at some of the drama ahead for David, as life without Kylie takes a perilous turn.

Our sneaky snaps show the bloodied fella cruising for a bruising, as a burly man knocks the stuffing out of him. But who is the violent brute – and what has David done to warrant such a beating?

“David is terribly conflicted about the promise he made to Kylie before she died versus the overwhelming urge he has to avenge her death,” explains our Street insider. “He vowed to take care of their children, Max and Lily, but he’s determined to make killer Clayton pay for ending his wife’s life. So is the altercation with this man part of his furious vendetta? And will David live to tell the tale?”

It doesn’t look as if David will be able to walk away from this altercation, judging by the pasting he receives. The hard man dishing out the punishment stuns Gail’s son with a right cross to the nose, before sucker punching him in the stomach. David is clearly no match as he doubles over in pain – but will it have been worth it?

What connection do Phelan and Eileen have to David’s latest drama?

“DAVID WANTS TO AVENGE KYLIE’S DEATH – BUT WILL HE LIVE TO TELL THE TALE?”

Meanwhile, some other on-set snaps feature Eileen and Phelan, while others clearly show that someone is gunning for Clayton. A poster on the wall has been designed to ruffle his feathers by outing the knifeman as Kylie’s callous murderer.

“The smart money is on David being the person behind the hate campaign – he’s trying to flush Clayton out of hiding,” reckons our mole. “So perhaps the evil scrota has found out about David’s plan, and sent one of his heavies to teach him a lesson. Only time will tell as David’s grief for Kylie leads to an explosive climax...”

Corrie boss Kate Oates has already teased big drama in store for David as he seeks revenge for Kylie’s murder. The soap is planning an exciting stunt scheduled to air this October, with the Platt family rumoured to be heavily involved.

So, will David get justice for his beloved Kylie – or will his reckless actions mean that Max and Lily will have to grow up without both parents?

Roy's splash landing!

SNEAK PREVIEW!

A day out with Alex and Tyrone ends in a soaking...

While actor Jack P Shepherd was being roughed up as part of the attack on David, his co-stars were also finding out that life on a soap isn't always as glamorous as it looks.

David Neilson (Roy), Alan Halsall (Tyrone) and Liam Bairstow (Alex) were recently spotted filming comedy scenes in which their alter egos' car breaks down by the side of a road – only to be sprayed with water by a passing van!

"Poor Alex definitely comes off worst as he gets a big drenching in the face, but Roy and Tyrone don't escape unscathed either," notes our Weatherfield source. "It doesn't look as if the vehicle that showers them is going to stop, either, so the unlucky fellas could be the victims of a wet-and-run!"

Roy will be cursing his vintage Morris Minor when it conks out after the trio head off on a trip together, leaving him having to resort to his map as Alex and Tyrone flap. Will Cropper and co get rescued from their soggy plight, or is their day set to go from bad to worse?

Paul's death has driven a stake through the hearts of his grandparents...

...and Pam can't believe that Les seems to be treating it like any other funeral

EASTENDERS | BBC1 Thursday

THE COKERS SAY GOODBYE TO PAUL

It's a devastating day for shattered Pam and Les...

The Cokers face the toughest day of their lives this week – as they bury their beloved grandson Paul.

Having spent their entire careers in the funeral business, Les and Pam have a lot of experience in dealing with death. But nothing could prepare them for the horror of laying their adored Paul to rest. Their grief is overwhelming, and both turn to unhealthy solutions to help them cope...

"Les has totally shut down – he doesn't want to deal with this at all," sighs our EastEnders insider. "He thinks that if he goes about things in a businesslike fashion, he'll at least be strong for Pam. Her trauma is almost as painful for him as losing Paul."

The trouble is, Pam isn't taking much solace from Les' efforts to be professional when it comes to the funeral. She's going through so many emotions – including anger, shock and denial – that seeing Les go about his business makes her furious. She feels outraged that he'd even consider treating Paul's funeral in the way he would any normal booking, but finds it hard to articulate how she feels.

“PAM FEELS THAT LES' SPEECH AT THE WAKE IS JUST ANOTHER SLAP IN THE FACE”

It's lucky, then, that Pam's sister Mim makes the effort to come to Walford to help the pair say goodbye. She's deeply concerned for Pam, and for Les as well. However, she's glad to be there when Pam finally starts to open up and express her feelings about Les treating her like a customer. Together, Mim and Les persuade Pam that she needs to go to Paul in the chapel and say goodbye on her own.

Visiting her grandson is an almost unimaginable ordeal for Pam to face – she knows that when she sees his body, she'll have to accept that he's gone. But, mustering all her courage, she goes in and cradles Paul's head, telling him how much she loves him and finally giving in to the weight of her grief.

Once Pam is done, the funeral commences, and Paul's loved ones come to honour his memory. Once the service is over, the Cokers return to the Vic, where they are surrounded by friends who are determined to get them through the day.

"Les takes charge again and makes a speech about Paul," shares our sneak. "But instead of doing Paul proud, he makes Pam furious again. What he says doesn't begin to convey who Paul was and why they loved him so much. All the emotions they're feeling are totally absent, and Pam can't believe it. She feels like this is just another slap in the face."

Can the Cokers find a way to heal their rift and move on?

We were devastated by Paul's death, and we're just as heartbroken that Les and Pam will be leaving shortly.

THE SEARCH FOR BELLE CALLED OFF!

As life on the streets takes a terrible toll, will she ever be found?

The Dingles are devastated this week, after the police announce that they are scaling back their hunt for troubled Belle.

Still terrified about where their little girl has gone, and desperate to know whether they'll ever see her again, Zak and Lisa are understandably distraught when an officer calls round to break the news.

Meanwhile, Belle is still wandering the streets, hungry, cold and penniless – and at the mercy of her cruel imaginary companion, Ellie. So as the search is drastically curtailed, can anyone get to the poor girl before the worst happens?

"The entire Dingle clan are trapped in a living hell without Belle," sighs our Dales insider. "They've been doing everything in their power, but are still no closer to tracking her down. Now that the police are withdrawing resources from the search party, the dreadful situation seems ever more hopeless."

In addition to sleeping rough in a shop doorway, Belle is burdened by her crippling psychosis. And as she goes on without medical treatment for the debilitating illness, so Ellie's grip on her tightens.

"Throughout this latest flare-up in Belle's condition, Ellie has been insisting that nobody wants her around – that's why Belle ran off in the first place," shares our sneak. "This week,

“THE DREADFUL SITUATION IS EVER MORE HOPELESS FOR THE DINGLES”

Ellie makes Belle throw away a leaflet with Dr Bailey's number on it, claiming that nobody cares. Belle has become convinced that everybody hates her. Her mental state makes her oblivious to just how much her family want her safe at home."

It's not only Ellie who makes Belle's life hell – being on the streets also leaves her at the mercy of heartless strangers. After a bunch of blokes out drinking steal her sleeping bag for fun, Belle is left freezing as well as starving. Little does she realise, however, that Lisa and Chas are handing out flyers not very far away, hoping that somebody might recognise Belle and know where she is. "There's a brief moment when it looks like Chas and Lisa might finally have come up trumps," reveals our mole. "They hand one of their flyers to a girl who viewers will realise walked past Belle earlier. But because Belle is so poorly and exhausted, she no longer bears much resemblance to the photo on the flyer, and the passer-by fails to make the connection. It's heartbreaking how much of a near-miss it is."

Belle can't protect herself or her belongings

As poor Belle becomes increasingly disorientated, she finally collapses under the strain and passes out. With her family struggling to stay positive back home in the village, will anyone come to her rescue?

LEE CARTER OFF!

He's the latest character to be written out of EastEnders...

SNEAK PREVIEW!

Hot on the heels of Ronnie and Roxy, EastEnders bosses have confirmed that Lee Carter is also waving goodbye to Walford!

Mick and Linda's eldest son is the latest character to leave the soap following the appointment of new boss Sean O'Connor – who is in the process of crafting some huge new plots for the Square...

"Danny-Boy Hatchard [who plays Lee] has been a great addition to the cast and we wish him all the best for the future," says an EastEnders spokesperson. "This was a tough decision for bosses – but sometimes to create big storylines, characters need to come and go."

“THIS WAS A TOUGH DECISION FOR BOSSES – BUT CHARACTERS COME AND GO”

Soldier boy Lee raised eyebrows when he joined the Carters in 2014 and had a fling with doomed Lucy Beale. He later settled down with Whitney, but has since been kicked out of the Army and has recently been battling depression.

But there have been happy times, as Lee and Whit's relationship managed to last despite his one-night stand with Abi. The couple are planning their wedding while also preparing to welcome their first child – but with Lee on his way out, what drama will inevitably tear them apart?

"Danny-Boy is an extremely dedicated and versatile actor, as well as a hugely popular member of the cast," explains the show's spokesperson. "But with the story the bosses want to play, it takes Lee to the end of his time in Walford."

"As he is part of the Carter family, no one should rule out a return," adds the spokesperson. "Danny-Boy has openly said that he only ever had a three-year plan [with EastEnders], so although his departure has come a little sooner, no one has any doubt that he is bound to land a big role very soon."

No further details have been released on how and when Lee will leave the Square, so viewers should watch this space...

Lee was a suspect in the Lucy Beale murder case

The Carter clan fully formed – it didn't last!

CARTERS IN CRISIS!

Who's left behind as the clan falls apart?

The Carter family were a force to be reckoned with when they first pitched up in Walford in 2013, but their numbers will have seriously depleted by the time Lee departs Albert Square.

After losing actress Maddy Hill – aka Mick and Linda's daughter Nancy – earlier this year, bosses were quick to cast Ted Reilly as her brother Johnny, who was previously played by Sam Strike.

However, the biggest void they'll face is the departure of mum Linda, who is due to be written out for a while as a result of actress Kellie Bright's maternity leave.

So what lies in store for Johnny, Mick and Lady Di after their relatives fly the nest? Our hope is that the changes will pave the way for even more deliciously wicked schemes from Aunt Babe!

PETER BEALE RETURNS WITH HIS OLD FACE!

Ex-EastEnders Thomas Law has been to the set recently...

Are our eyes deceiving us, or is Peter Beale set for a shock Albert Square comeback?

That was certainly our first thought when we saw this snap of Thomas Law – the actor who played Peter from 2006 to 2010 before Ben Hardy took over the role – standing outside the Beale house with his ex co-star Aaron Sidwell, who plays Steven.

Star Aaron teased fans with the picture on Instagram, followed by the caption, “When your brother just pops home for the day”!

Sadly for EastEnders fans, Thomas had simply swung by the set to say a quick hello to his old friends. Boo!

HIS FINAL DELIVERY

Walford's resident milkman has passed away...

EastEnders stars have paid tribute to their dear friend and colleague Michael Leader, who died recently. The actor was one of the Square's longest-serving supporting artists, having played the role of the local milkman since the soap first began over 31 years ago.

“Michael Leader was a man who made EastEnders more than just a TV show,” tweeted Ted Reilly, who plays Johnny. “RIP to an Albert Square legend.”

Eagle-eyed viewers will have noticed that the milkman was one of the few characters to share a scene with Peggy Mitchell, before she was killed off earlier this year. He later paid his respects to the Square's iconic pub landlady, by saluting the Queen Vic sign on his milk round. He'll be much missed by us all.

EMMERDALE | ITV Tuesday

He's determined to quit the village, but his friends won't let him go without a fight...

PLEASE DON'T GO, PADDY!

Devastated Paddy prepares to leave the Dales for good this week – as his loved ones beg him to stay.

The shock of discovering his estranged wife Rhona is now in a relationship with Pierce has knocked Paddy for six, and he can't bear the thought of living near them. His plan to depart is music to the ears of jealous Pierce, who despises Paddy for his affair with his late wife, Tess. But he's the only one hoping that the vet's promise to depart the village is one he keeps...

"Pierce hates Paddy, and doesn't want him anywhere near Rhona," sighs our insider. "Even though Rhona insists their marriage is over, in Pierce's mind there's always a risk if Paddy remains in the picture."

For Rhona, it's much more complicated. She knows how important 'Daddy Paddy' is to her son Leo, and she doesn't want their bond to be broken. That's playing on Marlon's mind too, as he tries desperately to convince Paddy that his future lies in the village, whether it involves Rhona or not.

“PIERCE THINKS THERE'S ALWAYS A RISK IF PADDY REMAINS IN THE PICTURE”

"Marlon knows how miserable Paddy was in Germany on his own," shares our informant. "He's having a hard time, and needs his mates around him. Obviously, Marlon has missed Paddy terribly and wants him to stick around – but convincing him to stay will be tough."

It's not only Marlon and Rhona on a mission to keep Paddy close – Aaron and Chas are determined too. They use Paddy's farewell drinks at the Woolpack to take the opportunity to tell him what he means to them and make him see sense.

But as Pierce whisks Rhona away on an Italian holiday, can Paddy be persuaded to put his passport back in the drawer?

TRACY SEES RED!

She's looking for her own identity...

David is shocked when Tracy makes a bold new fashion statement this week – sporting bright red hair.

Her dramatic makeover comes as she tries to establish herself as vastly different from sister Vanessa, whose blonde hair is similar to Tracy's barnet. She struggles with her emotions as her birthday approaches, and her pain over dad Frank's favouritism towards Vanessa continues to hurt her deeply – an attitude that hasn't played well with Vanessa, either.

"Vanessa didn't think Frank could sink any lower in her estimation, but his treatment of Tracy has been horrible," says our source. "She's trying to find a way to get on with her sister, but it's not easy because of their clash of personalities. However, they have both been massively let down by Frank."

What Tracy doesn't know is that Vanessa has been working hard to do something special for her birthday. Along with David, she organises a 90s-themed party for Tracy – who can't believe her loved ones have gone to so much trouble. It even momentarily thaws the sisters' chilly relationship.

"Tracy is genuinely touched that Vanessa would do this for her," reveals our spy. "It shows that it matters to her that she and Tracy get on. It's such a nice gesture that the girls even share a hug. Sadly, the good feelings only last a short time."

Soon Vanessa and Tracy are fighting again, and David worries that they'll never be able to be friends. But it's clear that what Tracy has been through means something to Vanessa, because when she picks up Frank from the hospital, she agrees to let him stay on the condition that he puts in an effort with Tracy.

But as Tracy makes a change to her image, will she even get a look-in as her dad continues to focus on his darling Vanessa?

COLIN COMES HOME!

EastEnders' first-ever gay character is making a surprise comeback...

Dot Branning is set to receive a blast from the past – as her former neighbour Colin Russell makes a brief return to Walford this week!

Star Michael Cashman – who went on to become a campaigner after leaving the soap and was made a lord in 2014 – is reprising the role he played from 1986 to 1989, for a story that will see his alter ego visit Albert Square 27 years after leaving it behind...

"It's been a real joy and indeed a privilege," says Lord Cashman of his return. "Thirty years ago, I started an amazing journey which helped change the country, and certainly attitudes to lesbian, gay and bisexual people. Arguably without EastEnders, I would never have gone into politics, I would not have been one of the founders of the charity Stonewall, and I would never have ended up where

“THIRTY YEARS AGO, I STARTED AN AMAZING JOURNEY – IT’S BEEN A JOY”

I am now. And the exquisite joy of having my scenes with 'Dame' June Brown was a bonus beyond anything else."

Long-time EastEnders viewers will remember Colin and his boyfriend Barry Clarke as the first gay characters to ever share a kiss on a British soap opera. Sadly, the couple went their separate ways and Colin moved to Bristol to live with his brother – so what prompts his return to Walford after decades away?

"Bosses are staying tight-lipped on the details surrounding Colin's return," explains our EastEnders insider. "However, we do know that his visit to the Square will raise a big question for Dot..."

Viewers will see Dot receive an upsetting letter – so is the news she gets connected to Colin? All will be revealed this week.

DAVID'S KILLER THREAT

Is bully Lauren
for the chop?

It's the demon barber of Coronation Street!

AT!

Vengeful David gives Lauren a nasty surprise this week – when he tricks her into a haircut and makes a chilling threat!

Bethany finally reveals to the Platts the reason behind her recent closeness with Gary, and they are shocked to learn the details of her horrendous bullying ordeal at the hands of Lauren. So when Lauren turns up at the salon to put the frighteners on scared Bethany, David sees red – and decides to give the bully a warning she won't forget in a hurry...

"David is still grieving for his wife Kylie, and he's been holding on to a great deal of pent-up anger since she was killed," says our Corrie source. "So when he walks in on Lauren terrorising Bethany, revenge is the only thing on his mind. He makes out that it's time for them all to bury the hatchet, and offers Lauren a free haircut – but after he chops off a chunk of her hair, he tells her it will be her throat he cuts if she ever bullies Bethany again!"

Earlier in the week, nervous Bethany is feeling the pressure when she's asked to attend a meeting at school with Lauren and her mother, and is finally forced to come clean to Sarah about all the grief she's been getting from Lauren and her minions. Sarah is then outraged when vile Lauren shows the head teacher a bruise on her arm and makes out that Bethany is in fact the one bullying her – leading to both girls getting suspended! And after David gives her tormentor the haircut from hell, jittery Bethany worries that he's made her awful situation even worse.

"He may think he's looking out for his family, but now it's David who's the bully – and it certainly doesn't help Bethany's case," reckons our snitch. "Of course, Lauren is scared stiff after the incident, but Bethany wonders how seriously she'll take David's threats in the long run. She's a nasty piece of work and will look to make Bethany pay for what David has done."

It's not long before the police call in at the salon to question David over Lauren's allegations. However, the hairdresser is as cool as a cucumber, claiming Lauren made an appointment and then changed her mind too late. And luckily for David, Gemma helps out by backing up every word of his story!

The Platts have been wary of David's behaviour ever since Kylie's tragic death, and no one is convinced that he's got over it. Nevertheless, Gail breathes a sigh of relief when he assures her that he's determined to try to move on. She has no idea that her merciless son is sowing the seeds of a much bigger scheme to take revenge...

MARK BRENNAN IS STABBED!

Will he survive a confrontation with nutty Ari?

Police officer Mark Brennan tackles Steph's crazed stalker Ari this week – and ends up gravely injured in the process!

Despite having been suspended from his job for bugging the confessional booth at the church, Mark persists in his mission to apprehend the Ramsay Street snake stalker. But he could end up paying a high price for his determination to bring Ari to justice...

"Mark knows that Ari is the stalker, but because of red tape he can't officially do anything about it," says Scott McGregor, who plays the cop. "Steph's life is in danger, though, so he won't let anything stop him."

The final piece of the puzzle falls into place when Steph's ex Belinda turns up in Erinsborough. She reveals that Ari is a former psych patient who was in love with her – and is targeting Steph because he sees her as a threat. However, after Ari menaces Belinda and Charlie with a knife, Mark is forced to take some drastic action...

Ari is arrested – but will it be too late for Mark?

"Mark tries to disarm Ari – and is stabbed while doing so!" explains Scott. "Any situation where weapons are involved and there's someone who is clearly unhinged will be volatile."

Mark's condition is very serious, and he's rushed to hospital."

Meanwhile, Scott tells us that he's relieved not to have to work with his slithering serpent co-stars any more...

CLAUDETTE & PATRICK GO PUBLIC!

Their families are stunned when they make their romance official...

Love is in the Square this week, as Patrick and Claudette inform their nearest and dearest that they're a couple!

The chemistry between the pair has been sizzling for the past few weeks, with Claudette managing to wrap smitten Patrick around her little finger. Of course, the duo almost didn't get together when Claudette was accused of trying to kill Aunt Babe. EastEnders viewers know that the real culprit was bad girl Abi – but nervous Patrick wasn't to know this as he took into account Claudette's dodgy past, and had serious doubts about her innocence!

With the floored foster-mum having promised to turn over a new leaf for her children, Vincent and Donna, she was hurt by Patrick's betrayal. However, with a little help from Dot, the pair have patched up their relationship – and they couldn't be more thrilled as their stunned clans take in their big news. But is their love set to last?

Patrick is aware that old Mother Hubbard bumped off her last husband, Henry, when he failed to meet expectations – so the Square stalwart could be taking a real risk by hooking up with a cold-blooded killer...

"Snakes have an interesting work ethic – if it's too cold, they won't come out of their cage," he grins. "We shot in the middle of winter, so a lot of coaxing by their handler was required!"

a place to stay. But while devastated Craig is touched by Tim's gesture, hard-nosed Sal isn't so keen on the teenager's presence.

Nevertheless, Tim wants to reunite the lad with Beth, and gives Craig food for thought by admitting that he was guilty of letting down his own child, Faye, when she was a baby. He tells Craig that he believes everybody deserves a second chance.

Tim's wise words give Craig the wake-up call he needs, so he turns to Sally, hoping that she can pave the way in putting things right between him and his mum.

With Sally keen for Craig to move out, she invites Beth and Kirk to a mediation session with Craig, where Beth hopes they can make up. As Craig tells his mum that he loves her, but is very hurt that she lied to him about his dad for so long, will Beth admit her mistake?

HELLO, DUNCAN!

Alf's son is back in town...

There's a blast from the past for Alf this week, when he opens the door to find his estranged son Duncan standing on his doorstep!

Viewers may not recognise the fella, as the role has been recast since Duncan was last seen on screen more than a decade ago. And newcomer Benedict Wall – who takes over from previous actor Brendan McKensy – is delighted to be joining Home and Away...

"Like everyone in Summer Bay, Duncan has baggage!" chuckles the star. "He has been married and had a couple of failed businesses, but now has a much cooler job – which will have a real impact on the Bay."

It's fair to say that Alf isn't exactly pleased to see his son, given that they've barely spoken in the past 10 years! But with Alf having recently been at death's door following his heart attack and stroke, Duncan is keen to mend the rift – so is there hope Alf will accept his olive branch?

"Alf is definitely less than impressed to see Duncan," confirms Benedict. "But Duncan wants to heal the relationship with his family. He wants to come home."

Roo is delighted to see her sibling – but does Alf feel the same way?

Roo is determined to do everything she can to reunite her half-brother and her dad, and after she arranges a family gathering, the frostiness between them finally starts to thaw. But Alf is left reeling when Duncan drops a massive bombshell! Will his shock news put paid to any happy family reunion?

She reckons her husband is cheating...

EMMERDALE | ITV Wednesday

Priya and Rakesh's marriage is on the rocks this week, as worried wife Priya begins to suspect that her husband is being unfaithful!

Life has only gone from bad to worse for Rakesh since he got involved with super-bitch Chrissie, and Priya is understandably baffled by her husband's odd behaviour. The stress of his situation is clearly taking its toll on Priya, who rightly senses that something is troubling Rakesh when he fails to come to bed. But although the dodgy lawyer tries to cover, Priya is unconvinced, and admits to Leyla that she thinks he might be seeing someone else!

Later, Priya tells Rakesh that she has used her savings to buy him a ticket to Lahore, and is shocked by his furious reaction. However, Rakesh finally realises the impact his attitude is having on his wife when poor Priya asks if she repulses him. Can the couple manage to work things out?

THE BIG INTERVIEW

EMMERDALE | ITV Tuesday

There's a shock
snog in store for the former in-laws
– but actor
Bill Ward isn't as surprised as we are...

James has always
held a candle
for Moiré

James may have announced his engagement to Emma, but we can't help believing he's made a terrible mistake. Time and again Emma has proved herself a certified crackpot, a woman scorned who'll stop at nothing to win back her man. James is fully aware that she's a bit crazy – so it's pretty risky of him to get hot and steamy in the back of a Barton cab with his former sister-in-law Moira this week! As we join Bill Ward, who plays James, for a chat about this shock development, he reckons that James' feelings for the two ladies in his life are genuine...

"Oh, James is aware that life with Emma comes at a price!" laughs the 49-year-old actor. "He knows that Emma has her foibles, but he loves her despite and because of them. She's a strong woman and always knows what she wants. He's been attracted to her all along, and she is the mother of three of his children."

When James locks lips with Moira, however, it's pretty clear that Emma is not the only woman for him. We know the pair have a past, and that their son Adam was conceived after Moira cheated on her late husband John with James. In recent weeks, the friendship has blossomed again following Moira's split from second hubby Cain – and James has been her rock.

"James' relationship with Emma has been going really well, actually – but he has been a true friend to Moira, too," shares Bill. "His feelings for Moira have kind of crept up on him while he's simply been trying to support her. But he's always held this candle for her – he may have snuffed

All over bra the shouting: Will Ross reveal what he's learned to Emma?

"HE IS BASICALLY TERRIFIED THAT EMMA WILL FIND OUT ABOUT THIS"

it out while he's been getting grief from Emma back home, but James finds Moira attractive and admires her even keel."

The pair end up getting passionate while heading to a meeting to discuss James selling his share of Wiley's Farm to Moira. Their journey is interrupted when they stop to rescue a donkey that's wandered on to the road – and after Moira gets emotional about everyone leaving her, and James once again offers her a shoulder to lean on, she moves in for a kiss...

"James doesn't back off when Moira makes a move – he's living in the moment!" insists Bill. "It's a long kiss. Things get pretty heavy in the back of that car, although everything stops before it gets too steamy. Moira's bra does come off – she keeps her dress on, but he gets her bra off! How that happens, I've got no idea. It's like some sort of a Krypton Factor origami challenge!"

With James' son Ross due to find Moira's bra in the car the next day, there's a very real danger that James and Moira will end up in hot water. However, James shows no fear when he bravely declares to Moira that he loves her – leaving the soon-to-be-divorced woman in a quandary. That's nothing compared to what will be in store if Emma hears about it, though...

"James is basically terrified that Emma will find out!" laughs Bill. "He doesn't really believe that she will – but then Ross finds Moira's bra and puts two and two together about who's been in the taxi. Of course, James is desperate for him to keep quiet. Who knows if he will?"

While the prospect of a showdown with scary Emma might not thrill James, Bill is enjoying this story. And he admits he had a lot of fun sharing the screen with the other star of these steamy scenes – that pesky donkey!

"There was actually more than one of them," grins the star. "Donkeys never stay where you place them in front of the cameras – they're donkeys, they go where they like! It was all good fun and kind of unusual, as I've not filmed with donkeys before. But they were cool!"

ALLISON JONES

InsideSoap 37

Bee on their bonnet: Will James and Moira come to regret their frisky roadside fumbles?

“Warren starts to wonder if Sienna killed Patrick!”

Stars Jamie Lomas and Anna Passey dish the dirt on the scary pair...

Warren returned to the village hoping to turn over a new leaf, but his life has been anything but quiet since he became loved up with fellow rabble-rouser Sienna. It's a potentially lethal combination, and with most of the village gunning to get rid of the pair, they must be one of the most hated couples Hollyoaks has ever seen! But here at Inside Soap, we can't wait to see what kind of trouble they cause next – and as we sit down for a chat with stars Jamie Lomas and Anna Passey, aka Warren and Sienna, they tell us what's coming up for the dreadful duo...

Hi, Anna! How on earth would Sienna cope if she knew that her daughter Nico was the one who'd killed Patrick?

Anna I don't know! She's been so fixated on Maxine and Darren that she's never even noticed the murderer under her roof. Nico is a total nightmare, but you can't help feeling sorry for her at times – and I don't think Sienna could compute that this little dot of a person killed Patrick.

Would Sienna be prepared to turn her own flesh and blood over to the police?

Anna She only ever wants to protect Nico, but this might be the one thing she couldn't forgive her for – Patrick was Sienna's dad, after all. They had a bonkers relationship, but she loved him more than anything and is at a real loss without him. So basically, you'll have to wait and see!

Jamie, this is a lot for Warren to get involved in. Does it prove that his feelings for Sienna are genuine?

Jamie Yeah I think so. Sienna caught his eye because there's something mysterious about her, and he likes that dark side. There was a twisted instant attraction between the two of them that he wanted to explore, and that's the only reason he hasn't left the village far behind.

Warren peace: The Chester hard man squares up to Adam

Anna Warren came along at a time when Sienna had no one and was really desperate. Even though he's a badass character, he has a protective side – I think that's why he can't leave her. And if Maxine turns out to be knocked up, he's well and truly stuck!

If she does, and Warren turns out to be the father of Maxine's baby, can you see him and Sienna fighting for custody?

Jamie Can you imagine that? A serial killer would have nothing on a child brought up by those two! But no, Warren has learned from all the mistakes he made with his son Joel, and would love to be given a second chance as a dad – he'd want to do right by the baby. He's confident in his relationship with Sienna, but he'd also want to be there for Maxine and help her through this.

Are you pleased about Joel making a return to the village?

Jamie Yes, I've had a few scenes with Rory [Douglas-Speed, who plays Joel], and he's a really nice guy. We've been told that we have some great stuff coming up. And Joel is a priest now! That's funny, but I think it's also quite clever because Warren feels semi-responsible for that and wonders if his past has made Joel choose that. Their relationship is fractured, and Warren has a lot of making up to do.

Can you both tell us what's coming up for Warren and Sienna?

Anna Well, they spend half the time fighting and trying to boss each other around, but the rest of the time they get on very well! A lot rests on this week, because Warren may very well have a baby to consider, and

If you go down to the woods today... you might find Patrick's body!

Sienna has to work out what to do with Nico. Things could go in different directions. Jamie As well as that, Darren and Nancy are beginning to sow some seeds of doubt. They fill Warren in on the backstory between Patrick and Sienna, and while he doesn't believe them at first, he gets the truth out of Sienna and she admits that she was prepared to help Patrick die. Then he does start to wonder whether she might have killed him, so there's a certain uncertainty there. Who knows what will happen...

ANNA'S FORMER SCREEN TWIN IS ON THIS YEAR'S STRICTLY BILL...

Perhaps things would have turned out differently had Nico's dad Dodger stuck around to keep an eye on his daughter – but the hunky fella isn't available to sort out the mess!

That's because actor Danny Mac, who played Dodger, is competing in this year's Strictly Come Dancing. And Anna tells us that she can't wait to see how her one-time cast mate fares...

"It'll be fantastic!" she beams. "Danny is a great little dancer, and I think he'll do very well. I'll definitely be going down to support him."

Danny isn't the first soap star to woo the Strictly judges, and certainly won't be the last. So could Anna be the next Hollyoaks actor to hit the dance floor?

"I'm not sure whether I should be allowed to be myself on television," she laughs. "It might not be a good thing! I'll just see how Danny gets on."

CORONATION STREET | ITV Monday

As Corrie's hottest new couple have their first big row, Street star Daniel Brocklebank tells us why he's worried they're moving too fast...

Billy thinks
he's ruined
the best th
that's ever happened to him!

Life as Corrie bad boy Todd's other half was never going to be dull, but vicar Billy thinks he may have overestimated his own appetite for drama. Their romance moves at one heck of a pace this week, as they plan to take things to the next level physically, and then Todd lands on Billy's doorstep with his bags, ready to move in. That's not the full story, however, because two massive rows shake their romance to the core, and give both men pause for thought. Sure, they share a lot of chemistry – but is this a pairing that's built to last?

"Billy feels that immediate rush of infatuation that you can experience at the beginning of a new relationship," muses

"I THINK TODD WOULD'VE DONE THE DEED ON THE FIRST DATE!"

Daniel Brocklebank, who plays the loved-up vicar. "He feels as if it's moving towards love. But there's a lot of lust going on!"

Sparks have been flying for weeks now, so it may come as a surprise to find out that Billy and Todd have so far been taking things slowly in the bedroom department.

"This is very much coming from Billy," reveals Daniel. "I think Todd would have done the deed on the first date if he had his own way, and it's not for a lack of trying! But Billy has a strong moral compass, it's got nothing to do with the fact he's a vicar. It's just Billy thinks it'll be worth the wait."

However, it seems the time for intimacy has arrived, and Todd surprises Billy by booking them a night in a hotel. But the evening doesn't go to plan.

Back off!: Billy gets angry with Todd after he makes a joke

"Billy's made up, and it feels like the moment is right!" grins Daniel. "But then Todd says he was worried Billy wouldn't be up for this because he thought he'd still be 'under the bishop's petticoats'. That annoys Billy, so he pulls back. They have a fight and Todd storms out – leaving Billy to pay!"

This is textbook Todd, but it comes as a shock to Billy, who is devastated by the way that things have turned out.

"Billy is gutted because he thinks he may have overreacted," explains Daniel. "So he goes straight to his friend Eva. He says he's ruined the best thing that's ever happened to him, but Eva tells him to calm down."

As it happens, it doesn't take long to mend this rift, as a big bust-up at home sees Todd kicked out of Eileen's. That's when he rocks up at Billy's and asks to move in.

"It isn't good because Billy knows the bishop's stance against him living with somebody," shares Daniel. "He tells Todd that he can stay for a few nights, although that's where it ends. Todd doesn't like that because he likes getting his own way. Todd also really can't get his head round why a gay man in 2016 can't live with his boyfriend. But Billy's job has parameters, and he has to stick to them."

It looks as if there will be plenty more rows in Todd and Billy's future, but Daniel still believes this is a relationship with great potential. In fact, he thinks it could be serious enough to change Billy's whole life.

"The relationship is still in its early stages," he says. "But given time to think and weigh things up, I could see that Billy may consider leaving the church if Todd asked him to. Although that doesn't mean that he'd be losing his religion!"

KATE WHITE

STAND BY YOUR MAN!

TWISTED PHELAN MANAGES to wreck Eileen's relationship with Todd this week, when a massive argument sees the angry mother chuck out her own son.

Todd sets his eyes to roll after hearing that Phelan has made Eileen 'concepts executive' of his new development, correctly realising that this gesture is just a ruse to keep her out of Phelan's hair. Although Eileen is overjoyed at getting this seemingly pivotal role, it's really the nasty builder's way of shipping her off to design shows across the country – while he is left to swindle Jason's inheritance.

If only Eileen would listen to Todd, who continues to warn her that Phelan is playing her for a fool. But when Todd mouths off, Eileen hits the roof and tells him to move out if he can't be civil to the man she loves. Are these words going to come back to haunt her?

Trust issues: The pair get down to business – but things go awry

“When Mr T left for Sweden, I thought I was out of a job!”

Actor Ben Hull is back in Holby City – and reveals what’s coming up for ‘MOT’...

HOLBY CITY | BBC1 Tuesday

Holby’s most frustrating and yet compelling love story is revisited with a vengeance this week, as Mr T returns from practising womb transplants in Gothenburg to be reunited with his soulmate Mo.

Of course, this would be the perfect opportunity for her to tell Mr T that she is pregnant with his child. But in a cruel twist of fate, Mo’s babydaddy has some news of his own – as he introduces her to his new fiancée, Inga!

So is this the final nail in the coffin for Mo and Mr T’s ‘will-they-won’t-they?’ saga? Returning Holby City actor Ben Hull – who plays him – hopes not as he joins Inside Soap for a long overdue catch-up...

“MAYBE MR T COULD WORK IN THE CANTEEN, SERVING CAKE!”

“Chizzy [Akudolu, who plays Mo] and I feel the same way as the audience do!” chuckles the star, who is well-known for his previous roles in Hollyoaks, Brookside and Family Affairs. “I was in a coffee shop recently and a lady said to me, ‘You’re Mr T from Holby, aren’t you?’. I told her yes, so she leaned forward and whispered in my ear, ‘Mo’s pregnant – do you know?’.

It’s funny how the viewers have taken the characters into their hearts!”

However, the story is set to grow even more excruciating for the actors and fans alike, as Mo makes the decision to tell Mr T that he is not the father of her baby! As we put it to Ben, surely this isn’t the best way to go about bagging the fella that you love?

“Mo’s not being vindictive about it,” insists the actor. “She can see that Mr T has moved on and she just wants him to be happy – but it’s really hard for her!”

“After we finished filming those scenes, Chizzy said to me, ‘Oh man – the fans are going to hate me’. I tried to reassure her by pointing out that she’s simply portraying what has been written for the characters, and then she said, ‘But why can’t she just tell him?’. We both stood there for a moment trying to work it out, as we really want them to be honest with one another!”

We reckon that’s easier said than done, though, given that Mr T’s heart seemingly belongs to someone else now...

Down to a T: He seems to be happy with Inga – but is that the full story?

"His feelings for Mo are buried for the time being, but you'll see that he is still conflicted," explains Ben. "There are one or two moments where he sadly remembers how they used to be, and he has to correct himself. Mo is his one true love, and he'll always have feelings for her."

So perhaps all is not lost for 'MOT'. And it's certainly just the beginning of a new chapter for Mr T, who has been one of Holby City's most popular characters since he first appeared in 2012.

"Mr T was only meant to be in it for one episode four years ago!" exclaims Ben. "Everything that happens to me is always a mystery and surprise, so I'm just thrilled that they keep writing stories for me."

"When Mr T left for Sweden earlier this year, I thought that was the end of him!" adds the actor. "I genuinely started looking for other work, and it wasn't until I was saying my cheerios that the show said, 'But you know you're coming back, right?'. I was absolutely delighted, especially now I know what Mo and Mr T have coming up."

While Mr T was away, Ben was hard at work on other projects, and also spent time with wife Anna Acton [ex-Walford detective Emma Summerhayes] and their daughters.

Just a Mo: How will the surgeon react to her secret babydaddy being back?

"We had the school holidays recently, and our youngest, Gracie, fractured her foot!" says the actor. "It meant a trip to A&E. All the staff turned out to be massive Holby fans, and thankfully Gracie is okay."

With Ben back in the thick of his own hospital dramas playing Mr T, we'd love to see the doctor become a regular character.

"I've suggested every possible story to the bosses, but I think they like the fact that Mr T is the hospital's bumbling gynaecologist," he confesses. "I thought maybe he could give up being a consultant and work in the canteen, serving cake all day. Or perhaps we should start a petition to see that Mr T retrains. It's the only way!"

LAURA-JAYNE TYLER

BEN ENJOYED PAYING A VISIT TO HIS OLD SOAPLAND STOMPING GROUND...

When we first clapped eyes on this recent picture of Ben on the Hollyoaks set, we wondered if his Chester alter ego, Lewis Richardson, was in line for a shock comeback! But he had simply popped by the village to see a few of his old mates...

"I absolutely loved being back there – even standing outside the gates brought back memories," gushes the star, who played Lewis from 1995 to 2001. "There was lots of hugging and crying as I bumped into the people I knew – and Steph Waring, who plays Cindy, looks younger every time I see her."

"Hollyoaks is doing so well that I thought, 'I'd love to be part of it again'," adds Ben. "Maybe Lewis' death will turn out to be a big misunderstanding, and he isn't dead at all. If there was a story to bring him back, then I'd be up for it!"

Keep it in the FAMILY!

Would you Adam and Eve it? An episode of Who Do You Think You Are? is set to reveal that EastEnders Danny Dyer is related to the bleedin' Queen! But he's not the only soapie with a famous relative...

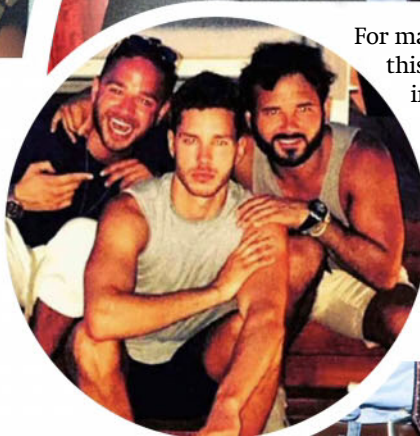

WORDS: KATE WHITE

EASTENDERS' RICHARD BLACKWOOD (VINCENT) & SUPERMODEL NAOMI CAMPBELL

The Walford star and the catwalk sensation were for a time stepbrother and stepsister. Richard's father Cliff married Naomi's mother Valerie when Richard was 10 years old and Naomi was 12. "We were closer when we were younger – then my dad and her mum split up," he said in an interview in 2000. "We were only together for a short while; our parents were with one another for seven years. But we speak from time to time. She was a good sister for a long while."

EMMERDALE'S ADAM THOMAS (ADAM), EX-CORRIE ACTOR RYAN THOMAS (JASON) & REALITY TV STAR SCOTT THOMAS

For many years there were two famous brothers in this family: Ryan, who played Jason Grimshaw in Coronation Street; and Adam, aka the Dales' Adam Barton. However, this year's series of Love Island brought Adam's twin brother Scott to the public's attention, after he came third in the ITV reality show – and now this clan is a celebrity trio. But Scott reckons his brothers shouldn't be worried. "I joined a modelling agency and they put me into acting auditions, and I was awful!" he laughs. "I was really bad!"

CORRIE'S CATHERINE TYLDESLEY (EVA) & FORMER CRICKETER MICHAEL VAUGHAN

Corrie actress Catherine was delighted to meet former England cricket captain Michael for the first time at a television studio in 2013. The pair are related via Lancashire cricketing brothers Ernest and John Thomas Tyldesley, who were star players in the 1920s. Michael's great-grandmother was the sister of the pair, while Catherine is the brother's great-great-niece. But although Michael – who competed in Strictly Come Dancing in 2012 – inherited the family sporting prowess, Cath's talent was on the stage rather than the pitch. "It was great to meet Michael," she grins. "Sadly, I'm not a good cricketer – I wasn't even good at rounders at school!"

EASTENDERS' RITA SIMONS (ROXY) & THE APPRENTICE STAR ALAN SUGAR

With a chequered job history including club manager, beautician and market trader, Roxy has never quite made her fortune – maybe Rita's multimillionaire uncle Alan could give the character some career advice! Rita is Alan's niece – he is married to her dad's sister – and the actress says he's a lot nicer than TV's 'Lord Sugar'. "He's lovely," she reveals. "He loves his grandchildren and family time."

PHOTOS: GETTY, HIRSHOPX, EROTINE, REX/SHUTTERSTOCK

CORRIE'S BROOKE VINCENT (SOPHIE) & ELLIE LEACH (FAYE)

As the daughter of Sally and Kevin Webster, we've watched young Sophie grow up before our very eyes – as well as actress Brooke. So when her real-life cousin Ellie joined the Street to play troubled Faye, Brooke was able to guide her. "Ellie is really good," enthuses Brooke. "She is laid-back and chilled-out about the situation, and she has seen me go through it. If there is anything she needs to ask, she does. I don't worry for her, although I know she is going to go through everything I had to go through but worse, because there is so much more attention than back then – now it is just constant on social media."

HOLLYOAKS' JAMIE LOMAS (WARREN) & EMMERDALE'S CHARLEY WEBB (DEBBIE)

Acting talent runs in the family for siblings Charley and Jamie. The duo are very close, despite Jamie being 13 years older – but it wasn't always that way. "When I was little, apparently I hated Jamie," chuckles Charley. "He had to bribe me to cuddle him. He'd take me for sweets if I promised to give him a hug when we got back. Then he'd say, 'Where's my hug?', and I'd just say, 'Absolutely not!'"

Keep it in the FAMILY!

EMMERDALE'S
GAYNOR FAYE
(MEGAN) & SCREENWRITER
KAY MELLOR

Gaynor has worked extensively as an actress, but it's writing that's in her blood. She's the daughter of acclaimed screenwriter Kay, who penned TV favourites such as Band Of Gold, Fat Friends and In The Club. Kay cut her teeth as a writer working on Coronation Street in the 1980s, the very same show where Gaynor shot to fame as Judy Mallett. Mother and daughter joined forces to co-write drama The Chase, but while she's starred in a few of her mum's shows, Gaynor has ruled out playing a part in any more. "I love everything that my mum does," shares the actress. "She writes brilliant dialogue and great characters, especially strong women. But I've been in her stuff, and I made a conscious decision that I wasn't going to do any more. I made it as an actress in my own right, and I didn't want anyone thinking that I just did her shows."

NEIGHBOURS' OLYMPIA VALANCE
(PAIGE) & EX-ERINSBOROUGH
RESIDENT HOLLY VALANCE

Stunning half-sisters Holly and Olympia don't just share the same father, they've also both called Erinsborough home. In 2014, younger sister Olympia took on the part of Paige Smith in Neighbours, 12 years after Holly had waved goodbye to the role of Flick Scully. It may have been more than a decade since she was last seen on Ramsay Street, but Holly had plenty of wise words for Olympia. "Holly told me, 'Make sure you're prepared and you know all your lines, because no one's got time for you to stuff up'," shares Olympia. "That's what I've done. You only get one or two takes, so you have to be super-prepared."

EMMERDALE'S AMY WALSH (TRACY) & FORMER GIRLS ALOUD SINGER KIMBERLEY WALSH

When Kimberley, 34, shot to fame as part of Popstars: The Rivals winners Girls Aloud, Amy was delighted for her older sister. However, she wasn't the only Walsh dreaming of stardom, as 29-year-old Amy was a born performer, too. That meant that their family home – which was also shared by siblings Sally, 37, and 32-year-old Adam – was full of drama. Spare a thought for their mum! "It was a pretty chaotic house," admits Amy. "We would make up shows in our living room. We have three cousins a similar age, and when we were all together it was like the von Trapp family. Every day there would be a different show!"

EASTENDERS' SAMANTHA WOMACK (RONNIE) & REALITY TV STAR CALUM BEST

It wasn't until several years ago that Albert Square's Samantha realised she was related to model and reality television personality Calum, whose father was footballing sensation George Best. "Calum's my cousin," explains Samantha. "We didn't discover we were related until a few years ago, when my dad was looking into his background and realised his father was also Angie Best's [George's one-time wife] father. I've met Calum a few times and we text each other. He is a lovely young man, and I am really proud of him."

EASTENDERS' KARL HOWMAN (BUSTER) & EX-CASUALTY ACTRESS CHLOE HOWMAN

Two of the BBC's most popular dramas have been sharing this father-and-daughter duo. Karl has been playing Andrew 'Buster' Briggs in EastEnders, while Chloe recently filmed her last scenes as Casualty's troubled nurse Rita Freeman. Chloe's first TV role was as a child in her dad's smash-hit 80s sitcom Brush Strokes. However, Chloe has already vetoed another suggested collaboration. "My husband jokes that me and my dad should do Celebrity Big Brother!" she laughs. "I love my dad, but it would be the first CBB murder. If we were stuck in that house, we'd both go over the edge!"

DYER DISGUISE

There's no fooling us – we'd know this East End gent anywhere! Walford's Danny Dyer (Mick) tried his best to go incognito while attending the recent V Festival in Chelmsford, but even in a mask, he was easily identifiable. The actor was taking time out of his busy schedule ahead of his wedding to fiancée Jo Mas, who was also at the festival with the couple's daughter, Dani. With only a short time to go till the nuptials, let's hope there were no sore heads in the offing!

At your

She's only 24, but Shona has racked up eight years on the Square as troubled Whitney. Here, she talks brilliant Babs, beguiling Badland and bringing back Bianca...

I love the pics I've seen of you with your dogs. What's the best and worst thing about being a dog owner?

...asks Gemma from Crewe

The best thing is that you get the warmest welcome ever each time you come home! The worst thing is the mess. I have had shoes just torn to pieces – dogs love a flip-flop, so they don't survive in my house! I caught my youngest dog chewing plastic the other day. She loves anything plastic, especially kids' toys. She's got a stash of them in her bed. She is really naughty, and just runs away if she's in trouble!

You always look lovely, Shona. What's your top beauty tip?

...asks Emily, via email

Aw thanks, Emily, that's very kind of you. My top tip would be to always take your make-up off before you go to bed. I used to use face wipes, but I don't any more because I think they just move the make-up around your skin – they don't actually take it off. So I make sure I cleanse and tone every night. It's a good habit to get into.

I've read you enjoy singing. What is your favourite number to belt out?

...asks Bernadette from Liverpool

It changes whenever I hear a song that I like – I immediately learn how to sing it. Recently, I've really got into Alive by Sia. It's a difficult one to sing – you need good lungs, and you have to work out your breathing. It's a pretty big song, but Sia is amazing.

Who is your favourite singer?

...asks Louise from London

If I had to pick one, it would be Aretha Franklin – she's my favourite singer of all time. The best Aretha song is Think, because it channels that old gospel music that she brings through into her songs and just makes you want to dance! That said, I love all sorts of music and singers.

Where is the strangest place you've been recognised?

...asks Joe, via email

At the doctor's! I had a bad throat and a nasty cough, so I went to my local GP. I was sitting in the waiting room, minding my own business, and this old man shouted across the room, "You're Whitney!". Everyone turned around, and it was quite embarrassing.

How did it feel to have a scene between Peggy and Whitney during Barbara Windsor's last appearance in the show?

...asks Rebecca from Portsmouth

It was amazing to have Barbara back on set. I remember reading the script, and I did a double-take because it said 'Peggy and Whitney'. I thought, 'No way!'. But I had that one scene with her in the Vic toilets, which was awesome. It was so great to get any part in her exit, so I felt honoured to have been given the scene. Barbara is so full of

"I do! I miss Patsy Palmer [Bianca] so much, and I miss the kids, too. They are only in Milton Keynes in the show, but Patsy lives in LA now – she has a lovely life. It's exciting when Whitney's brother Ryan comes back – but he's in prison right now... **"

get on! What's the best thing about working with [actress] Annette Badland?

...asks Wendy from Ipswich

I love watching Annette work, and she's an incredible actress. She is so professional and so different from her character. Annette has many amazing stories to tell from her career, and she's full of wisdom. When Annette goes into a room, she lights it up, and she's just a real treat to be around.

What's been the best holiday you've had?

...asks Cara from Dundee

I went to Gran Canaria in 2013, and it was brilliant. I'd never been there before, and I went with a couple of my friends. We hit all the cabaret bars, hung out with drag queens, and I went up on stage and sang. It was brilliant fun – the shows the drag queens put on are so funny. I had an amazing time.

Who would you say is your acting inspiration?

...asks Penny, via email

My favourite actress is Angelina Jolie. I think she is incredible, and I would love to meet her and get a selfie – but I think I might faint! She was just awesome in [1999 film] Girl, Interrupted. I have always wanted to play a character like Lisa in that film, and Angelina is so good in the role.

All that, plus she's married to Brad Pitt – that can't be bad!

What's the best piece of advice your mum has ever given you?

...asks Josephine from Dorset

She's given me loads of advice, but the best would be to treat people as I would want to be treated. That just makes sense.

“I WOULDN’T SAY NO TO EASTENDERS OR CORRIE!”

She’s already scored a soap hat-trick, but Sheree isn’t done with soapland yet...

As Emmerdale’s ditzzy Tricia Dingle, Sheree Murphy won the hearts of the nation. So we’re happy to report that Sheree herself is every bit as warm and bubbly as the fabulous Tricia – which is why the star has been signed for her latest role as the presenter of cooking competition Yes Chef.

She’s there to soothe and support the home cooks being put through their paces by a host of top chefs, before three-Michelin-starred chef Pierre Koffmann arrives to judge their efforts. Having been in the firing line as a contestant on Celebrity MasterChef, Sheree is exactly the person to help them through the tricky tests...

“I try to make them feel at ease,” reveals the actress and host, who joins Inside Soap for a good gossip. “Remember, all these home cooks haven’t been on camera before, so that’s even more nerve-wracking. At least when I was on Celebrity MasterChef, I was used to cameras. I kept telling them all to be confident, and they were there because they could cook. The standards were very high!”

Cooking has been close to Sheree’s heart for a long time, as she’s an accomplished chef herself. Let’s not forget that when Tricia was in Emmerdale, she was married to Marlon, current head chef at the Woolpack, and they ran a restaurant together! But nowadays, Sheree’s cooking is done primarily for her four children and her husband, retired footballer Harry Kewell.

“I have five different sets of taste buds to cater for,” she groans. “So that does take the creativity out of my cooking a bit. But I do cook from scratch every night, and MasterChef helped push me into cooking lots of different things. But if I want to impress my kids, I have to bake a cake. That’s when they say, ‘Wow!’.”

Since marrying Harry in 2002, Sheree’s life has taken her on an incredible journey, especially when they moved to his native Australia for almost three years. That was a big shift in lifestyle for the family, and gave Sheree the chance to fulfil a life goal.

“It was a bit surreal to be in Neighbours and to be kissing Paul Robinson!” laughs the star, who played Dakota Davies in 2014. “I grew up watching Stefan Dennis as Paul. All that kissing embarrassed my kids no end. But it is nice to say that I’ve been in Neighbours!”

Of course, Sheree also had a role in Hollyoaks as Eva Strong, the biological mother of Anita Roy. That means she’s got three soaps on her CV already, and she isn’t ruling out more.

“I’ve done the hat-trick,” she grins. “What’s next? EastEnders or Corrie. I wouldn’t say no to them! It’s nice for me to do both acting and presenting these days. I like doing Yes Chef because it means interacting with the public, rather than standing in a studio, reading off an autocue. There’s a real skill to that, and I don’t think I’m very good at it. But being with regular people is easier as I like talking to anybody!”

Having filmed the first series of Yes Chef, Sheree says that she feels very lucky with the life that she’s led so far.

“I take it all as it comes,” she explains. “I don’t look to the future as much. I live every day in the moment, and I’ve never been very pushy when it comes to my career. As long as the kids are happy, and my husband is happy, I’m happy.”

THE CRAZY LIFE OF TRICIA STOKES-FISHER-DINGLE!

How many of her antics do you remember?

SHE TWO-TIMED SCOTT WINDSOR WITH TERRY WOODS!

Who'd have thought that lovely Tricia was capable of bringing such scandal to grandad Alan Turner's family? But in sleeping with bad boy Scott and veteran Romeo Terry, she did just that. The shame!

SHE THOUGHT BERNICE WAS A RIGHT LOON!

There was no love lost between Tricia and Bernice at first – they were fierce rivals. So when Bernice kept banging on about fiancé Gavin Ferris, but he failed to show up, Tricia thought Bernice had an imaginary boyfriend. When he eventually appeared, Tricia bedded him!

SHE MARRIED A GAY MAN!

Tricia made the ultimate sacrifice for her best friend Jason Kirk, when she married his Australian boyfriend. By tying the knot with Joe Fisher, she ensured the two men could be together. Plus, she was now sporting the bonkers name Tricia Fisher!

SHE HAD A WEDDING DAY NIGHTMARE!

Her sham marriage over, Tricia prepared to tie the knot with true love Marlon. But her big day was a nightmare when she got chewing gum in her hair and injured her neck – ouch! They eventually tried again, getting hitched a few months later.

SHE WAS A BOLLYWOOD STAR!

Tricia left Marlon and the village for a little while after being offered a role in a Bollywood film. This was in no way a mad excuse for Sheree to go on maternity leave!

OUR GIRL | BBC1 Wednesday

Michelle Keegan reports for active duty as the Army drama returns...

Soldiering

The first series of Our Girl back in 2014 followed new Army recruit Molly Dawes (Lacey Turner) on her first deployment to Afghanistan, where she tried to prove herself to the rest of her platoon. There's a change of personnel in this new five-part run, though, as Lance Corporal Georgie Lane joins Captain James and 2 Section on a humanitarian trip to Kenya.

"Our characters are completely different," explains former Corrie star Michelle Keegan, who plays Georgie, as we join her on set during a break in filming. "Molly was at the beginning, she was just getting into being an Army medic, whereas Georgie has already done a few tours before this one. We do make reference to Molly in the show, because Captain James is married to her now, and Georgie and Molly are friends."

Captain James has personally asked Georgie to join his platoon for this aid mission to a refugee camp near the border with Somalia, and Georgie finds that her medical skills are soon in demand. To prepare for the role of an experienced Army medic, Michelle had to go through two weeks of intensive boot-camp training.

"It wasn't as bad as I thought it was going to be!" chuckles the star. "I was a bit worried because I heard it was going to be quite strict, I thought we'd be running for miles and if I said anything wrong I'd have to do press-ups – which actually happened a few times! – but it was great fun. And I'm really good at press-ups now!"

"When I left Corrie I didn't know when the next job would be coming along"

The role of Georgie is a world away from her best-known role as the Street's Tina McIntyre, and Michelle was absolutely thrilled to be offered the part.

"I loved the first series, and my dad was a massive fan," she enthuses. "When I left Corrie it was so daunting, and I didn't know when the next job would be coming along. So to get a role like this particular drama, with the BBC, it's one of those great moments where I'm still pinching myself. I'm on set and thinking, 'What am I doing here?'. So I do feel very, very lucky."

Girls on film:

The scenes set in Kenya were actually filmed in South Africa, which meant a long stint away from home for Michelle, and the actress admits she had a few concerns.

"I'm not very good in the heat!" she reveals. "But for some reason you do acclimatise to it straight away. We were quite lucky because we filmed in March, and I think last time they went out it was January, which was boiling, so it had cooled down by the time we were there."

"I'm quite a home bod," continues Michelle. "So I thought I was going to get really homesick. But I was working six days a week and I was in nearly every scene, so there wasn't time to miss home. It was one of those things where you look back and think, 'Oh my God, that's the experience of a lifetime'. I loved every single minute of it!"

What do you mean you're NOT watching...

ONE OF US | BBC1 Tuesday

SOMETIMES WE WATCH TV to relax, and sometimes we like TV to make us feel very uncomfortable – and this four-part drama is doing that job brilliantly. Set in a remote part of the Highlands, it deals with the aftermath of the murder of a newly-wed couple, when the man responsible for the crime turns up at the homes of their families, injured and vulnerable. How far should you go to get revenge? Can you ever justify 'an eye for an eye'? And how would you react if you had to confront the dark side of someone you love? Thanks to some sharp writing and a brilliant, committed cast, it's been making us ask some soul-searching questions...

I haven't been watching much recently because I've been abroad filming, but I managed to keep up with Big Brother, and I'm quite proud of that! I know a lot of people find it trashy, but I love it – my favourites this year were Jackson and Lateysha.

People Just Do Nothing

And it doesn't matter that I know the entire thing word for word!

When I was growing up, I loved watching My Wife And Kids – the mum in that programme really reminded me of my mum. I used to watch loads of Nickelodeon shows, and I loved That's So Raven on the Disney Channel. When I was a kid, I believed that I had visions like Raven – well, I pretended!

People Just Do Nothing is one of my favourite TV shows of all time. The humour is just right up my street, I think that it's hilarious – I have cried laughing watching it, it's so good. I love Chewing Gum on E4 as well – I've heard they're filming series two, and I'm so excited!

My favourite film is really old, it's called Good Burger and stars Kenan and Kel. I used to watch them all the time on Nickelodeon, and it's got that silly humour that I'm just into. I can watch it over and over and over again.

If I could be on any other TV show, it'd be one of two – maybe Chewing Gum, if I could be Tracey's arch-enemy, a proper little villain, that would be quite cool. Or The Great British Bake Off, because I feel like Mary Berry might like what I throw down in the kitchen!

Friends reunited

The Manchester pals are back together, 13 years later...

COLD FEET | ITV Monday

After a gap of 13 years, relationship drama Cold Feet returns for a new series this week, and it's like catching up with old friends: Adam, Pete, Jenny, David and Karen are all older, but not necessarily wiser. So how was it for the cast to return to these characters after all this time?

"I thought it might be really hard, to be honest," admits Fay Ripley, who plays Jenny. "But within a minute, it was the same. It was like stepping back in time, starting a new term at school. We've got a shorthand when we work together. It's like family, you just know each other."

"We're not picking up where we left off because it would cost the production company a fortune in Botox," jokes John Thompson, who plays Pete. "If I look at where Pete was left, he's in a better place here than he was back at the end."

The details of the storyline that reunites them all are being kept under wraps, but the stars think viewers will still relate to what their characters are going through.

"What [creator] Mike Bullen does well is you recognise the stuff he writes about," shares Fay. "That's his skill – he knows how to pinpoint."

"It's the ordinariness of the day-to-day problems that these couples experience, but with Mike's slant on it," adds John. "People relate directly to those problems."

Trial & error

POLDARK | BBC1 Sunday

Aidan Turner and Eleanor Tomlinson are back in a new series of the Cornish saga...

When the latest adaptation of Winston Graham's Poldark novels hit our screens 18 months ago, it turned out that modern viewers couldn't get enough of impoverished 18th-century Cornwall. When we left things, Ross had just been arrested on suspicion of murder and wrecking, so here Aidan Turner and Eleanor Tomlinson, who play Ross and his wife Demelza, tell us what's in store.

Where do we find Ross and Demelza at the start of series two?

Aidan We pick up with the opening of the second series exactly where we left off. It's an incredibly hard time for Ross and Demelza, having lost [their baby] Julia as well as having trouble with his company, and potentially having to face execution. It's as bad as it's ever been for them both.

Eleanor Ross is on trial and will be hanged if found guilty, so it's a very emotional time.

Will their relationship stay strong throughout this series?

Aidan Ross' relationship with Demelza suffers at the hands of his relationship with Elizabeth this series. It is hard to know why he can't just let Elizabeth go, but when you idealise someone for so long, which is what he did when he was away at war, it is hard to just turn off those feelings.

Eleanor Their relationship is certainly very real. I think that's what people love about Ross and Demelza: they can relate to their issues and their problems. There's jealousy and another woman involved, so it's classic really, but very modern in many ways.

Were you surprised by the success of the first series last year?

Aidan It was lovely to come back knowing that the first series was popular, it's a real morale booster on set. We all worked really hard on the first series and that seems to have paid off. We enjoy doing what we do, and we want the show to continue. There is so much more of this story to tell, so it kind of needed to be a hit!

Jeremy Vine tells us why Crimewatch is going to be a regular fixture in our schedules...

Ongoing investigations

CRIMEWATCH | BBC1 Monday

Expect a few changes when Crimewatch returns this Monday: not only does it have two new presenters in the form of Jeremy Vine and Tina Daheley, but it's also going weekly for the first time in its 32-year history.

Crimewatch will be going out every Monday night for the next four weeks, and each episode will be broadcast from a mobile incident studio in the vicinity of a real crime featured that week.

"I feel the BBC is really recommitting to Crimewatch in a big way, which is exciting," Jeremy tells Inside TV. "There's a really big thing with 'heritage programmes', as you might call them, where they've been around a long time and they're trusted. Once you have that status, you must never throw it away. And if the victims know they're not going to be used, once you have them on board, you're giving the viewer amazing access to the story."

While some of the crimes featured in the show will inevitably be hard-hitting or even harrowing, Jeremy strongly advises the audience to maintain a sense of perspective when watching.

"A lot of the really serious crimes in this country are on a general trend downwards, which is reassuring," he informs us. "The trouble is that the ones we do on Crimewatch really stand out. But I think people will be able to realise that these cases are not normal – it's on the air because it's not normal."

We chat to Brian McFadden as the cookery guessing game returns...

WHO'S DOING THE DISHES? | ITV Weekdays

Another batch of celebrities have invited members of the public round for dinner, as Who's Doing The Dishes? returns this week. Can the contestants work out the clues in the food and their surroundings to identify the celebrity cook in question? If not, they have to do the washing up, but host Brian McFadden reckons this lot have done their homework. "The people who are on it this year have all watched the show," he tells us. "So they know it's not going to be Madonna's house!" Brian's first celebrity host of the week is Hi-De-Hi! star Su Pollard, whose home is as colourful as you'd expect. She kept Brian on his toes, too... "She's bonkers!" he chuckles. "The energy she has is incredible, but I love doing this show with people like her because she makes it so easy. Some people can be quite difficult if they don't have much to say and you have to spend 14 hours talking with them, but Su always had fantastic conversation." Fourteen hours? Blimey, those are long days – so how does Brian maintain his energy? "Red Bull," he confesses. "I probably drink about seven cans during the day! I have to – the show is edited down to an hour, and it's noticeable if your energy levels drop!"

Vocal authority

NEWZOIDS | ITV Saturday

Jon Culshaw and Debra Stephenson are back to make a new impression...

Topical comedy Newzoids is back this week to provide a satirical take on the events of the last seven days – and considering the way things have been going in the worlds of entertainment and politics lately, there shouldn't be any lack of material. Inside TV chatted to impressionists Jon Culshaw and Debra Stephenson about how they're preparing themselves...

Which new characters do you have lined up for the second series?

Jon Well, there are 50 new puppets – I don't know where to start. Donald Trump is new, his hair is a cat! Jeremy Corbyn is there, I saw his puppet at the studios the other day, and you look at it and you feel a sort of sense of sympathy. There's a slightly frail, Basil Brush-type quality to it. Debra Plus, we've got a lot more women involved – we've now got Theresa May, our prime minister, Nicola Sturgeon will still be featured, I think, and we've got Hillary Clinton, Angela Merkel – those women are right at the forefront. I don't know if that's good news, but it's good news for a female voice impressionist!

Things move very quickly in politics – have you been forced to retire a few puppets since the last series as well?

Debra It's been an unusual year, hasn't it?

Jon So many of the characters from the first series have gone – Ed Miliband, Ed Balls, David Cameron now as well. It's nice that the show can move at speed, with the technology, with the puppets merged with the CGI eyes and lip-sync, we can respond to things pretty fast.

Debra The writers are amazing because not only do they have an opinion on things, but they can make it funny, and I think it's so clever to be able to do that.

Jon And not just with the political side of things as well – when you're on ITV on a Saturday night, you have to have a bit of entertainment in there as well.

How intense is a job like this, doing a topical comedy impression show?

Debra The most challenging thing for us is coming up with new voices if they're thrown to us at the last minute. But I think at the moment we know who's going to be around for the next couple of months. Over the Brexit time it was really mad – we had people resigning left, right and centre, people were constantly coming and going!

STRICTLY COME DANCING: THE LAUNCH

BBC1 6.50pm

We're even more excited about Strictly Come Dancing than usual this year after seeing the quality of the celebrity line-up: Will Young! Anastacia! Greg Rutherford! Louise Redknapp! EastEnders' Tameka Empson! But one man who can generally be relied upon to keep cool and calm in such situations is judge Craig Revel Horwood, so Inside TV asked him for his thoughts...

"I think this year's line-up is really spectacular," Craig tells us. "I'm very much looking forward to seeing them. One standout is Judge Rinder, that could be quite electric because he's very quick-witted and it should be a lot of fun. Let's hope he can dance, for his sake!"

As is inevitable when a new cast is confirmed for Strictly, people have been rifling through their CVs to see which of them have prior dance experience – but is that really such an advantage on the show?

"It's a double-edged sword," cautions Craig. "If you've had ballet training, it's far more difficult to turn your hips and your feet inwards because you're trained your entire life to turn out, and it's much easier learning something from scratch where your muscle memory doesn't interfere with it."

We've already heard that this will be Len Goodman's final series as a judge on Strictly, so is Craig going to miss his old sparring partner?

"I will miss Len a lot – I'll miss our battling, and all the pointing of the fingers," he chuckles. "We've got such a great rapport on the show, so it's going to be really bizarre when he's not there [on the judging panel] next year."

THE XTRA FACTOR LIVE

ITV2 9.15pm

Matt Edmondson and Rylan Clark-Neal are back again with on-the-spot reactions to this week's audition shows. They'll be joined by some of tonight's contestants, as well as celebrity guests who'll be giving us their thoughts on this week's episode. "Matt and I are like Sam Fox and Mick Fleetwood at the Brits," shares Rylan. "We're the total odd couple, but that's why it works. I like to think we each bring something to the show, but at the same time we click."

SHETLAND

Drama 9pm

The first two-part series of the detective drama airs in one mammoth chunk tonight. Douglas Henshall plays Jimmy Perez, returning to the Shetland Isles after a long absence and investigating a suspicious death.

DYLAN MORAN: YEAH, YEAH LIVE

Gold 11pm

The stand-up comic and creator of Black Books hits the stage in this recorded performance from 2011. He'll be discussing subjects like ageing, relationships and kids in his own unique style.

Marriage market

VICTORIA

ITV 9pm

Everyone's talking about who the Queen will marry, to the extent that Victoria herself is getting fairly tired of hearing about it.

One unwelcome intervention comes from her uncle Leopold, who visits with the intention of persuading Victoria to marry her cousin Albert, though the Queen seems fairly unmoved by his arguments – so far, at least. But there are murmurings that the Queen is rejecting suggestions of suitors because she only has eyes for Lord Melbourne – and indeed, Victoria decides to confess her feelings to 'Lord M'.

"I think perhaps now I am speaking as a woman, not as a queen," she tells him. "At the beginning, I thought that you were the father I never had, but now I feel – I know – that you are the only partner I could ever desire..." Blimey.

MURDER IN SUCCESSVILLE

BBC2 10.30pm

Alan Sugar is dead! A champion racehorse named Alan Sugar, that is, and his jockey Tom Daley reveals that he was caught up in a race-fixing scandal. DI Sleet and new rookie Chris Kamara question sports promoter John Bishop, gambler Cara Delevigne and sheikh Kanye West as they hunt the culprit. The scene where Sleet and Kamara go undercover as prostitutes may end up seared into your retinas.

PARKS AND RECREATION

Dave 11pm

Bad news: tonight we reach the very end of Parks And Recreation, one of our favourite sitcoms of the century. Good news: at least we get three episodes in one sitting to finish it off. Firstly,

Pawnee goes into mourning when Mayor Gunderson dies. And in the final two-parter, Leslie plans one final project to bring the entire team together before she and Ben move to Washington DC, with a series of flash-forwards revealing what the future holds for the gang...

THE LAST SHIP

Sky1 8pm

The United States is grieving the death of President Michener, but the crew of the Nathan James still have plenty of work to do. They soon make an unsettling discovery about why the cure wouldn't work on Takehaya.

SUITS

Dave 10pm

Rachel and Jessica are doing everything they possibly can to try to get Leonard Daley's execution postponed in tonight's episode of the legal drama, while Mike is also under pressure as he tries to deliver a witness.

WE THE JURY

BBC2 10pm

This is another of the BBC's comedy pilots airing in the Landmark Sitcom season.

William Cryer (played by Ed Easton) has spent his whole life dreaming of following in his father's footsteps and serving on a jury – and on his 30th birthday, his mother presents him with his long-awaited jury summons. Better still, when he arrives at court, William discovers that he's struck lucky and landed himself a murder trial.

Unfortunately, he might not be the ideal person to serve on a jury, and most of the other self-obsessed people around him don't seem ideal for the task either. Can justice prevail even when those in charge of delivering it are more worried about whether they'll be sympathetically rendered by the courtroom artist?

SECRETS OF THE SAS

Channel 5 9pm

Former members of the secretive regiment give us a rare insight into their world in this new gripping four-part series. Tonight, ex-soldiers explain how they rationalised killing as part of their job – and what happens to those killer instincts when they eventually leave the service behind. They'll also be sharing some stories of a mission so dangerous that they nicknamed it 'Operation Certain Death'.

THE REAL HOUSEWIVES OF CHESHIRE

ITVBe 10pm

The ladies of Cheshire are back for a fourth series of glamour and feuding tonight. There's bound to be plenty of drama, so we caught up with stars Lauren Simon and Missé Begiri to see if we could get some hints as to what we can expect...

"I was new to the show last time," recalls Missé. "This time around, I just feel more comfortable and I'm building real friendships." "For me it's a bit different this time," says Lauren. "On the last one I was crying a lot, I'd been through a divorce and was a bit sad. This time, I'm making a perfume, and for me it's about getting me back. I'm enjoying life again because I think viewers have seen enough of Sad Lauren. Happy Lauren is back!"

In fact, viewers should watch out for Lauren this year, as she's definitely back on the scene in style.

"Me and Ampika went out clubbing," she shares. "I think she was trying to fix me up with men, but I was just playing and having fun. It'll be interesting to watch because I behaved so badly!"

DARA O BRIAIN'S GO 8 BIT

Dave 10pm

Each week, two celebrity guests will join Dara O Briain and team captains Steve McNeil and Sam Pamphilon to demonstrate their video game prowess. Up first, comedian Susan Calman and ex-goalkeeper David James.

BORDERLINE

Channel 5 10pm

It's time for one last visit to Northend Airport as the comedy about border security agents concludes its first series tonight.

Clive has some news for Proctor: it turns out he has a job with the police (yes, really) and he'll be leaving the airport in a month. Organising his farewell party will have to wait, though, because Proctor has a PR nightmare to deal with first: someone has posted a picture on Twitter that makes it look like she was kicking a man out of the country (in fact she was giving him directions to the toilets).

It's too late to contain the Twitterstorm, but she's hoping to prevent it from happening again by cracking down on the taking of photographs at the border. Meanwhile, Andy is having second thoughts about her relationship with Tariq...

WENTWORTH PRISON

5STAR 10pm

This Aussie drama goes all out for its finale episodes, so expect a wild ride tonight. Bea's bliss following her night with Allie turns out to be short-lived when she finds Allie collapsed in the showers after being drugged by Ferguson. Of course, Bea doesn't know about Ferguson's involvement just yet. But after checking the CCTV footage leading up to the assault on Allie, Vera finds that some of it is missing and realises that an officer must have played a part.

Suicide squad

DCI BANKS

ITV 9pm

Banks and his team are having to tread very carefully around crime boss Steve Richards now that the latest body discovered in the woods has been identified as his daughter Kat. There's a suicide note next to her body, but Banks and Helen still have their doubts – which turn out to be justified when the post-mortem reveals something deeply suspicious about the crime scene. Meanwhile, Annie makes a potential breakthrough after managing to connect with Tamsin Richards and getting her to open up about Kat's problems.

Outside of work, Banks and Annie try to make a go of the 'just good friends' thing by going for dinner with their respective partners. It all seems fairly functional to begin with, but you can't tell us there isn't still a spark between the detectives...

PARALYMPICS 2016: OPENING CEREMONY LIVE

Channel 4 9pm

For everyone experiencing Olympics withdrawal, here's the answer: it's back to Rio for coverage of the Paralympics. While there have been reports of the games running into financial problems, we're hopeful that Rio de Janeiro will still provide a Paralympics to be proud of. Clare Balding and Adam Hills will be bringing us the opening ceremony, live from Brazil.

ROSS KEMP: EXTREME WORLD

Sky1 9pm

He may have made a return trip to Walford recently, but Ross is back at the day job here, meeting the people at the heart of some of the world's most pressing issues.

In this opening episode, he's off to Mongolia where there's been a rise in violence from far-right groups, generally directed at foreigners who they believe are responsible for the country's economic problems. Ross hears how they feel threatened by changes to their way of life.

INSIDE SCOTLAND YARD WITH TREVOR MCDONALD

ITV 9pm

Sir Trevor gets to the heart of the Metropolitan Police in this new two-part documentary by visiting its headquarters to look at almost 200 years' of history.

That means getting access to the Crime Museum within Scotland Yard, where exhibits from some of the force's most important investigations are kept, and a trip to the Met's Heritage Centre in West London, where Sir Trevor discovers the difficulties faced by the force in its early days. (Apparently half of the original cops were dismissed for inappropriate conduct, including one who was milking a cow while on duty.)

Sir Trevor will also be finding out about the history of forensics, DNA and fingerprinting, and how the Met Police caught notorious serial killer Dennis Nilsen.

PAUL O'GRADY: FOR THE LOVE OF DOGS

ITV 8.30pm

This week, Paul checks in with loveable new arrival Blake, who's full of energy and loves to play, but the team at Battersea are concerned about his eyesight as he's a little clumsy and often seems disorientated. It looks like Blake might be needing his own guide dog. Paul also meets Forest - from a distance, as the pooch is confined to quarantine with a stomach bug...

HANCOCK'S HALF HOUR

BBC4 9pm

Back in the day when repeats were a rarity, the BBC tended to delete programmes from its archives after a while, so many classic shows have been lost forever – although in some cases the original scripts remain. As part of the BBC's Landmark Sitcom season, Kevin McNally gives an uncanny performance as Tony Hancock in this episode of Hancock's Half Hour. Here, Tony's habit of keeping an eye on his neighbours leads him to become suspicious of some new arrivals.

JOANNA LUMLEY'S JAPAN

ITV 9pm

Joanna embarks on a 2,000 mile journey in this new three-part series as she travels across Japan to explore the lesser-seen corners of its islands, meeting new people and having a once-in-a-lifetime experience. Inside TV caught up with Joanna upon her return to find out more about her travels.

"I didn't know there were over 400 inhabited islands!" Joanna tells us. "I thought, I really don't know Japan at all, so this was a chance to go and try to get behind that most mysterious country which, of course, at one time was an implacable enemy."

In tonight's episode, Joanna visits the Fukushima exclusion zone, where a tsunami triggered a huge meltdown at the nuclear power plant in 2011, which the actress and presenter tells us was a sobering experience.

"I knew they wouldn't let us in if it really wasn't safe," she shares. "There were three zones: red, amber and green, and we were in the amber zone, so you could only stay there for five hours, otherwise they felt that you could become contaminated. Somebody told me that radioactivity clings to plants more than anything, and taking my measure down towards the plants, it was going off and I thought 'Oh help! It is around!'. It was nowhere near the danger level, but there was enough to make you think that five years afterwards, it was still contaminated."

Over the course of her trip, Joanna got to try out some uniquely Japanese mod cons – and she was particularly impressed by the loos...

"Those heated lavatory seats, you just want to go and live in one of the lavatories there!", she chuckles. "And you can also choose the sound you want to hear, like birdsong or wind chimes, to make it not sound embarrassing from outside!"

THE OUT-LAWS

More4 9pm

This Flemish comedy-drama has really had us rooting for the main characters to get away with murder – and a lot of credit must go to Dirk Rooffthoof, whose performance as the hateful Jean-Claude has been so skin-crawlingly good. The Goethals sisters have got what they always wanted, and Jean-Claude is dead – but who finally did the dirty deed? And on top of that, the Dewitt brothers are keen to avoid bankruptcy by proving Jean-Claude was murdered.

RONNIE & ROXY – INTO THE SUNSET?

The big news that the Mitchell sisters are bidding farewell to Walford came as a bolt from the blue. Inside Soap readers had a lot to say on the subject – plus some suggestions for an exit storyline...

Roxy should crush Ronnie into a cube – like what happened to poor Fatboy! That was all Ronnie's fault and I'll never forgive her.

Fiona, via email

I can understand why EastEnders has axed Ronnie and Roxy, as they've long since had nothing of interest to say or do. They were great when they first came into the show, but now they both seem to be going through the motions – especially with Jack back. Send them off to Ibiza until someone comes up with a new story for them!

Leanne, Bristol

To be fair, Leanne, I don't think Ronnie and Roxy have quite been "axed" – it's what's known as a "mutual decision to leave".

I'm so upset that Ronnie is leaving. I started watching EastEnders with her first episode, having been hooked by the special trailer they made to announce the Mitchell sisters. And anyone who says that the Danielle plot and the baby swap are not the two best EastEnders stories of all time is quite simply wrong!

Georgie, via email

I've always loved the Mitchell sisters' feistiness, and how they care for one another. I'll really miss them when they're gone. I wish Samantha Womack and Rita Simons the best of luck in the future.

Louise, Leicester

And so say all of us!

"Call that a Stetson, Marnie? I'm ashamed of my own daughter!"

GRAY MATTERS

I was thrilled to hear that Linda Gray, famed for playing Sue Ellen Ewing in Dallas, is to join the cast of Hollyoaks. What a coup! Even better, she's playing the mother of trouble-making Marnie Nightingale, which sounds like dream casting to me. I can't wait to see what Tabitha gets up to – especially if she's looking for love, with those distinctive smouldering eyes of hers. Frankie and Cindy had better hang on to their men, because Dirk and Jack are closest to Tabitha in age, and could find her charms irresistible!

Nancie, Sevenoaks

Oh, I can't imagine that a character played by someone as glamorous as Linda Gray would waste her time with a man close to her age!

RANT! RAVE! We love to hear your opinions. Here's how to get in touch...

BY POST Inside Soap, 33 Broadwick Street, London W1F 0DQ

BY EMAIL Send your message to soapbox@insidesoap.co.uk

Sean isn't the only one grinning and bearing it in his scenes

SULLIED BY TULLY

I really enjoy Coronation Street and have been watching it for many years, but I find Sean Tully the most irritating person in it by far. He is always whinging or whining about something or other. Thankfully, he never gets any meaty storylines, so he's not featured as much as the other characters – and a good job, too! I am so pleased Billy chose Todd. Maybe Sean should get a one-way ticket to Thailand to go and see Jason, leaving us all in peace!

Hannah, via email

There you go, Hannah – it sounds like you've suffered in silence for many years. It must feel good to have that off your chest!

APRIL COOL!

Nothing and nobody in soap puts a smile on my face more than little April in Emmerdale. She has me in absolute stitches with some of the things she comes out with, and I love how she's in a different fancy dress in virtually every scene.

GONE FOR A BERT

In EastEnders this week, Jay said he wanted to go and find his "Grandad Bert". Am I right in thinking we've met him before?

Laura, Dartford

We have! In fact, we met Bert Atkinson before we met Jay. Yorkshireman Bert was an old friend of Pauline Fowler's husband, Joe Macer. He came to Walford in 2006 to see Joe, but stuck around for a handful of entirely forgettable storylines. Bert had been estranged from his family for many years, so was shocked to learn from his ex-wife that not only had his daughter died, but she'd had a son Bert had never even heard of. That child was Jay, who came to live in Walford with Bert. When Jay's dad Jase Dyer came looking for him, Bert then left his grandson in his father's somewhat dubious care.

IN THE PINK

Eva in Coronation Street wears some lovely clothes, but my favourite is her pink dress with the cut-out panels at the front. Do you know where it's from?

Angie, via email

Sure! You can buy Eva's body-con dress from www.prettylittlething.com in a range of colours. Head to the website and search 'Stephanie bandage dress' – but you'd better be quick, as they're selling fast!

THE WRONG VERDICT

Letting Dean Wicks get away with rape yet again sends out completely the wrong message to women who are reluctant to report such a crime for fear of not being believed. EastEnders scriptwriters should have had him getting his just deserts.

Lesley, Pelsall

We were a little surprised by that, too, Lesley. Perhaps Dean's story isn't over yet?

Dean's story has been tough viewing – but was it a fitting ending?

BAD MARKETING

The idea that Carmel in EastEnders would get the role of market supervisor on the Square is utterly ludicrous. She has never worked on one, has no legal or enforcement experience, and has relatives running market stalls. In the real world, she wouldn't even get an interview.

Colin, Southgate

That said, she's a natural!

HEART IN THE RIGHT PLACE

I've been loving watching reruns of the amazing 90s drama Where The Heart Is on ITV3. It's a game of 'spot the 2016 soap star'! So far I've noted cameo roles from tiny David Platt, teenage Kirk Sutherland, twentysomething Reenie McQueen, and even a slightly younger-looking Norris Cole – with hair! Plus the wonderful Lesley Dunlop [Brenda in Emmerdale] has a lead role. It really must have been the place for budding actors to kick off their careers. Bring the show back, I say!

SOAP shorts...

"How good is Chrissie White in Emmerdale?" enthuses Michael from London... "When is Jenny Bradley in Corrie going to go barmy again?" wonders Alice from Durham. "It's like waiting for Christmas." (I'd say Christmas is a pretty good guess, Alice!)

ARIES 21 MARCH – 20 APRIL

If someone is playing the fool around you this week, you may not be impressed! You don't have a high tolerance for chicanery at the best of times, but your mood this week is definitely not a kind one...

TAURUS 21 APRIL – 21 MAY

You'll be tempted to revisit the past this week, as someone or something reappears and takes you back. Would that be a good thing? Consider how far you've come before wallowing in nostalgia.

GEMINI 22 MAY – 21 JUNE

Oh dear – an implacable foe is back on the scene! You may have thought you'd seen the last of this person, yet here they are again. But does it really matter? You'll be the bigger person if you ignore them.

CANCER 22 JUNE – 23 JULY

Family is very much on your mind recently, and this week might be a good time to consider paying a visit to an elderly relative. Your presence will bring a happiness to their life that you didn't conceive of.

LEO 24 JULY – 23 AUGUST

Memory is a funny thing, and you may spend time this week dwelling on all the things that have just slipped into the recesses of your mind and been forgotten. Don't fret – there are great new memories to be made.

VIRGO 24 AUG – 23 SEPT

You'll be in a puzzle-solving mood this week, and a trail of clues will have you eager to find answers. So put on your Sherlock Holmes hat and start piecing things together – there's a mystery afoot!

LIBRA 24 SEPT – 23 OCT

There are some ominous rumblings within your own family or a close friend's this week, and you'll have to try hard not to be drawn in. If you are, try to be diplomatic and escape all the drama unscathed!

SCORPIO 24 OCT – 22 NOV

A misunderstanding is at the heart of a problem between you and a friend or colleague this week. There may be heated words, but if examine what's happened, you'll soon realise the inadvertent cause.

SAGITTARIUS 23 NOV – 21 DEC

It's time for something to change in your life – you're just not sure what. As you search for the answer to what's niggling at you, try a cosmetic change such as a new hair colour or wardrobe refresh.

CAPRICORN 22 DEC – 20 JAN

This week, there may be a little devil on your shoulder telling you to do something naughty or mischievous. Sometimes you just need to have fun – but make sure it doesn't adversely affect others.

AQUARIUS 21 JAN – 19 FEB

Life is a rich tapestry, but you may have felt recently that the edges are becoming a little frayed. Concentrate on what's important this week, and try not to worry about ephemeral issues.

PISCES 20 FEB – 20 MAR

You may feel a bit like a stranger among your own friends this week, as a night out or social occasion finds you uncharacteristically awkward. These things happens and, like all the other times, it will pass.

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY - AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

"With my track record, this probably won't work out anyway!" wailed Marlon to new girlfriend Carly. He has a point. She should probably take out a life insurance policy.

Those endless vacant looks from Walford's Shakil make us feel that he's somehow waiting for something. A sign from God? A signal from his mothership?

The special effects for David's skywriter have probably blown the Emmerdale budget for the month. Who are they going to axe to pay for that?

Good on Honey for chucking Billy out for lying to her. But really, she should have dumped him the day he brought home that West Ham bed set.

Leanne to Nick this week: "But I've loved you since I was 16!"

Charity to Cain this week: "But I've loved you since I was 13!"

(They obviously start young in the country. Must be all that nature.)

BULLSEYE!

Ken and Tracy land the bullseye this week, simply for keeping it real. Forget the other big 'issue' storylines: the Barlows' intense debate about which rubbish bins to leave out on a Friday - while trying to spy on how the rest of the Street interpreted Weatherfield council's recycling leaflet - is about as true-to-life as soap gets!

All Chrissie's clumsy 'sex selfie' shows is Rakesh's shoulder and a wine bottle. Why don't you use the front-facing camera next time, lovey?

The looks from Steve and Liz as they reacted to Nick and Leanne's 'baby news' were absolutely priceless! We really can't get enough of this plot.

Tracy and Vanessa turning out to be sisters will stand as the most unlikely turn of events until the day Phil and Vincent turn out to be brothers. (We bet you 50p.)

"After seven years together, I think I know how to cover my tracks," purred Sharif's mistress Sonia - as she draped herself all over him in Yasmeen's kitchen. Oh yeah, subtle as a brick.
